Six hundred dollars worth of stamps and $75 in cash were secured in the robbery of the Cashton postoffice last night, and the robbers made good their escape, leaving no clue behind to assist the officers in apprehending them.

Of all the postoffice robberies perpetrated in this part of the country recently last night's was the cleverest.

The front of the safe was blown completely off, exposing the valuables within. Pieces of the safe door were blown all over the building, wrecking fixtures and breaking a large plate glass window in the front of the store in which the postoffice is located.

While the force of the explosion must have been terrific, strangely no

Prairie Meets Death at Trempealeau.

While hanging to the side ladder of a freight car on the Burlington, and on his third trip as brakeman, William Schmuck, residing at Lytle's Prairie, was hurled against a water stand-pipe at Trempealeau this morning and instantly killed.

Schmuck was a young man, something under 25 years of age. His mother had strongly opposed his taking up railroad work. He had made two successful trips and started from this city this morning with his train, northbound.

While the train was passing through Trempealeau at a rapid rate young Schmuck was leaning out from the car. He failed to notice the proximity of the water stand-pipe from which trains take water and as the train passed he was hurled against the pipe with terrific force. He was picked up about thirty feet beyond the pipe, dead.

His skull was fractured by the impact. His remains were returned to his home in Lytle where interment will be made.

The hold-up is alleged to have occurred about 1 o'clock last Friday morning in the rear of the Empire saloon. Hoffman, who is 18 years of age, came to the city to take in the fair, he testified in court today. He and a young lady were sitting in the rear of the saloon in the first block on South Third street for a couple of hours. It was 1 o'clock when they left by a rear door and started for the alley which led to Main street.

Just a short distance from the back entrance the couple were confronted by a man who stepped out from behind a post.

Boys Who Slugged Aged Men Amused When Bail
is Set at $1,000

Joseph Martineau, aged 17, St. Paul; William Craig, 18, Winnipeg, Canada; and Frank Knoblock, 20, Decatur, Ill., were arraigned before Judge Brindley this morning on the charge of assaulting Ole Amundson and Peter Uri, two old men, in the Northwestern freight yards last Friday night.

On account of the seriousness of the crime with which they are charged the three boys were brought into court, each handcuffed to an officer. All pleaded not guilty and were remanded to the county jail to await their hearing, which will be held some time this week.

The boys have been following the fair and came to La Crosse early last week. The crime with which they are charged is that of beating up the two victims until they were helpless and then relieving them of all their valuables. The sum of $32 and a gold watch in addition to some other articles, were secured. The boys were arrested a few hours later, in Bronson's restaurant.

They did not seem to take their arraignment in court seriously. One of them, Martineau, appeared amused at something and smiled constantly. All laughed when the court announced that their bail bond would be placed at $1,000 each. "That's easy," said one and all smiled in concert while they were again being shackled to their departure for the county jail.

BOYS ROB THE PASSENGERS

Deed on the Great Northern Conforms With Typical Robbery.

(Scripps-McRae Dispatch.)
SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 3.—The regular Great Northern train which left this city, eastbound, last night, was held up by a gang of bandits and the express safe blown by dynamite ten miles from here.

More than a hundred shots were fired.

Two boys riding on the "blind baggage" held up the passengers. The boys were arrested.

The train was flagged near the brick yards by two men dressed in long rain coats who climbed over the tender and levelled revolvers at the engineer. The baggage and express cars were uncoupled and the engineer was forced to run ahead for several hundred yards.

The express messenger refused to open the car and it was blown and the safe dynamited.

Officers of the company say the amount secured was small. A posse is on the trail.

The boys captured say they only met the bandits on the train and did not intend to rob, but thought it a good idea to do so since the game was started.

MUST CAPTURE DIETZ FOR TRIAL

CHIPPEWA FALLS, Wis., Oct. 3.—John F. Dietz, who for nearly two years has detained 18,000,000 feet of logs belonging to the Chippewa Lumber and Boom company at this city, at the Cameron dam, on the Thornapple river, and his partner, Valentine Weisenbach, will be tried on the charge of attempting to murder, next week.

But how to get Dietz into court is another question, and one still not decided.

The complaint against Dietz and Weisenbach is signed by J. F. Riordan, municipal judge of Sawyer county, and charges them with having "feloniously and willfully and with aforethought attempted to kill and murder." This alleged crime, was committed on May 8, 1904, when Pat McGin, a log driver, was shot in the arm.

Dietz will keep guard over the dam and permits no person to approach it. Signs are placed around his premises warning people to keep away. Dietz never leaves the house without his Winchester.

She says he hangs around the store and creates disturbances, which interferes with her business.

She therefore asks the court to protect her and her grocery trade. They were married September 1, 1890, and she charges neglect and cruelty.

DEAN MATHEWS WON'T ACCEPT

Word was received by La Crosse Episcopalians today that Dean Paul Mathews has decided not to accept the election as bishop coadjutor of the Milwaukee diocese but to remain instead in charge of St. Paul's cathedral in Cincinnati. This will necessitate another diocesan election, which will be held at the adjourned meeting of the diocesan council at the cathedral guild hall Tuesday morning Nov. 21, at 10 o'clock.

His decision to remain in Cincinnati was announced by Dean Mathews in that city yesterday and was also sent in the following personal message.

"I feel obliged to decline the election. I regret the delay to the diocese."

"I feel that I ought not to leave my work here," said Dean Mathews in making known his decision to friends in Cincinnati, according to dispatches from that city. "I believe that the place for me at present is Cincinnati. There is a large work to be done here and I feel that I should be in the heart and soul of it."

The election will be held on Tuesday, Nov. 21. No additional call for the council will be necessary, as the bishop foresaw this contingency and at his suggestion the council adjourned until that date. It will be the same body, composed of the same delegates, and it is believed that the contest will be fully as interesting as the original one. It is thought that the bishop will not recommend any additional names, inasmuch as his recommendations were disregarded in the first instance. It was also suggested last night that the necessity of this second meeting would have been unnecessary if the council had united on one of the candidates within the diocese.

Cowper wrote that "to follow foolish precedents, and to wink with both our eyes, is easier than to think!" but this is not true of modern business life, especially of advertising, in which even the best precedents are followed but a little while and then easily passed on the road; and in which to wink with either eye—at lethargy and inaction—is to invite wreck and disaster.

MERCHANTS WOULD HAVE FAIR ON THEIR OWN HOOK

Were the Fair Association to Decide to Disband in Resentment Against Knockers.

It is understood that members of the local retail merchants' association seriously consider a plan to back a fair next year in the event that the fair association decides to disband, to show its resentment against the knocking newspapers and others who have worked against its interests.

The merchants fully appreciating the importance of the fair to the community and to their business interests are determined to have a fair if possible.

It is understood, however, that the merchants are particularly anxious that the fair association should continue and will use their influence to overcome the knocking that has been done against the association by the two local trust organs. The fair association has not yet considered the matter as a body and it will be some time before a decision is reached, the matter being considered by the directors first and the association stockholders at the annual meeting in January.

While the fair directors and stockholders feel keen resentment against the two organs, many of the merchants believe that sufficient influence can be brought to bear to induce the association to continue.

WILLIAM STOEHR LIKED TO RUSH CAN AND INSULT GIRLS

Favorite Pastime of Famous Bad Man Brings Him Into Jail on a Serious Charge.

William Stoehr, an old offender and as well known in police court as Olaf Olson, released from jail a week ago, is back behind the bars, and indications are will this time receive a state prison sentence.

Stoehr, who lives at 1419 South Eighth street, is said to be about the worst case in the south end of town.

FOUND RIGHT PATH

After a False Start.

"In 1890 I began to drink coffee. At that time I was healthy and enjoyed life. At first I noticed no bad effects from the indulgence but in course of time found that various troubles were coming upon me.

"Palpitation of the heart took unto itself sick and nervous headaches, kidney troubles followed and eventually my stomach became so deranged that even a light meal caused me serious distress.

"Our physician's prescriptions failed to help me and then I dosed myself with patent medicines till I was thoroughly disgusted and hopeless.

"Finally I began to suspect that coffee was the cause of my troubles. I experimented by leaving it off, except for one small cup at breakfast. This helped some but did not altogether relieve my distress. It satisfied me, however, that I was on the right track.

"So I gave up the old kind of coffee altogether and began to use Postum Food Coffee. In a few days I found myself greatly improved, my nerves steady, my head clear, my kidneys working better and better, my heart's action rapidly improving, my appetite improved and the ability to eat a hearty meal without subsequent suffering restored to me. And this condition remains.

"Leaving off coffee and using Postum did this, with no help from drugs, as I abandoned the use of medicines when I began to use the food coffee." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

There's a reason. Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in each pkg.

Stoehr's favorite past time is to "rush the growler" until he has acquired a sufficient amount of exuberance and then stand in front of his house and call women and girls who pass the house bad names and in other ways insult them. As a result of his disgraceful proceedings Stoehr spends most of his time in jail.

He was liberated after serving a 45 day term, a week ago Saturday. It took him one day to acquire a beautiful load and the next he observed by making a few "friendly" calls on the neighbors. It did not take him long to provoke the row he was looking for. The language he used toward one neighbor's woman promptly brought an officer and Stoehr was soon in jail.

Judge Brindley announced in county court this morning that in view of his previous bad record the case was a serious one and extreme punishment would have to be meted out to him.

Stoehr thereupon pleaded not guilty and announced his intention of securing a lawyer and fighting the case. The examination was set for Thursday morning.

The La Crosse Leader-Press, says the Portage Democrat, springs this latest story, presumably from the Switch Shanty News Bureau or the Caboose Gossip Assn.: "A movement is on foot by the officials of the Milwaukee road to make a shorter route for stock shipments from the west to the Chicago markets and the experiment has already been tried. The new stock route proposed is to send the stock trans off the main line at Portage over the Madison branch and from that city through Janesville and over the new short line from Janesville to Chicago." At the Portage office of the Milwaukee road this afternoon a reporter was informed that no such change in the stock route had been made or, so far as local officials were aware, would be made. The La Crosse story was pronounced a fake.

Don't buy a stove until you have read the stove-ads. You might go to the right place—but it would be luck.

EXPENSIVE ARTISTS ON THE BIJOU STAGE

FAMOUS COLORED TEAM OF SINGERS

"One of the most refined and expensive attractions offered by the Bijou theatre in many months opened to a crowded house last evening. The vaudeville bill contains a number of noted artists, among them being the Wise and Milton company of colored singers and dancers, who come here direct from the south.

Corrolton and Hodges, singers and dancers, do a novel turn. Their dancing is little short of marvelous and their team work in singing is exceedingly pleasing. Perrotts' mystifications in the middle of the performance offer an attractive interval.

The colored company presents negro characteristic music and dancing and the act is closed with the "Indian Chief," which is presented under colored light effects and is very attractive.

L. O. Whittier appears in the beautiful illustrated song, "Bright Eyes, Goodby."

Following comes one of the best features of the evening, the funny story of the Lawyer and the Widow, in which the Lawyer Smart seeks to win the love of Widow Snodgrass. Ole Torgerson, a green Norwegian, is hired to mediate and in characteristic fashion disturbs the tranquility of the affair. The lawyer finally discovers himself making love to Ole who is disguised as a woman, and winds up the act by pummeling the distracting Norwegian.

The motion picture machine shows a funny scene entitled "Stolen by Gypsies."

GRAND JURY FINISHES UP ON THURSDAY

United States court will be concluded Thursday, at which time the grand jury will hand down its list of indictments and Judge Sanborn will hear motions and arguments in several matters.

EVASION AND APOLOGY.

Last night, in an editorial that was intended to be funny, and that really was funny all things considered, Mr. Gelatt attempted to "square" his paper for the selfish part it took in "knocking" the fair. He said in substance that last year his paper gave the fair association 500 inches of advertising for $75.00.

Perhaps it did. There is nothing to show for that except Mr. Gelatt's statement, which may be as true as some of the statements he made about the Central "deal" at the time he "acquired" the Common Stock. However, the inference intended is wrong, and false.

Last year Messrs. Gelatt and Stras had an interview with Mr. Van Auken in which they made a proposition on a rate basis, and that proposition was turned down; the fair association then, by its directors, authorized the payment of $75.00 to each paper, the papers to give what they pleased in return. What they gave, Mr. Gelatt says, was 500 inches. Maybe. As the Spaniard says, "Quin sabe?"

Will Mr. Gelatt deny that last year he demanded 25 cents per inch unless at least 700 inches were taken, and 15 cents if 700 inches or more were taken?

Will he deny that he never receded from that position.

Will he deny that he never intimated to the fair officials this year that he would take a less sum?

Will he deny that his paper said the U. S. Battery left Wednesday night, when it was the main drawing card for Thursday?

Will he deny that, in a fit of pique, he sent back his complimentary ticket to the fair this fall?

Will he deny that most of the papers in the state have printed their home fair stuff without charge?

Will he deny that he discriminates in his rates?

Will he deny that he and Mr. Stras entered into collusion to "hold up" the fair association, just as they did to "hold up" the city on city printing?

Will he deny that he "acquired" some Common Stock at about the time of the celebrated Central Electric "deal"?

"The Leader-Press has nothing on its conscience affecting its relations with the interstate fair, which it has regarded as of the greatest value to the mercantile community of La Crosse."

This saith the Leader-Press. Prayed for rain; prayed for poor attendance; prayed for the demolition and discomfiture of the fair so that it could say, "I did it with my little hammer." And now, when in spite of it the fair is a record breaking success, Lo, the scramble for the band wagon, and the snappy apology just quoted the humiliation of which must come four-fold from its non-acceptance by the merchants who are the butt of this funny man and his funny paper and his funny "deals" than net him Common Stock in a funny way.

The Chronicle "knocked" the fair;
The Leader-Press "knocked" the fair;
The Tribune "boosted" the fair;
The fair broke all records as a financial success;
The fair exceeded all former attendance;
The merchants enjoyed the most prosperous week of the year;
The banks handled more money than during any week in the year.

Yes, the Leader-Press knocked the fair; and the Chronicle knocked it; and The Tribune BOOSTED it. And it was a triumph of SUCCESS. O, you old Jim! O, you old Pa! O you!

DRIFT ALL NIGHT ON LAKE IN LAUNCH

FOND DU LAC, Wis., Oct. 3.—John C. Level and S. L. Robinson, Buffalo, N. Y., and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Sutherland, Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Eke and City Attorney M. K. Reilly, were obliged to spend Saturday night upon Lake Winnebago. The party was returning from Winnebago park when the gasoline supply for the launch ran short. A strong wind blew them out into the lake, where they cast anchor and remained until Sunday morning, when they were rescued.

The Tribune is the only La Crosse paper that stands for the interests of the whole people.

QUIPPS & CRANKS & WANTON WILES

Saturday's Leader-Press furnished another skiffintiant illustration of what it means to a suppression of the news-paper to have a false-sworn circulation and fifty years of reputation of various kinds back of it. Every column of this paper that we could not fill with Chronicle reprint was literally stuffed with obscene quack ads, and every dollar paid for it will yield us profits commensurate with the loss of the advertisers. By contrast, the Organ of Spite had room for the news that we do not print "for business reasons," but that does not matter, as everybody reads The Knocker, and gets the news anyway. —FOXY GRANDPA, in the Leader-Press.

- The fair association advertised in The Tribune alone. Not only that but the Chronicle and Leader
- "knocked" the fair. And the fair made more money than ever in its life before. Is not this a pointer to advertisers?

Oh how we knocked the fair, O Lord.
O how we knocked the fair.
And when we'd knocked the fair, O Lord,
The whole, wide world was there.

Had we attacked Merch Childers, Lord,
Merch Childers would be free;
For everybody knows, O Lord,
That square we cannot be.

Where'er we knock, there's Victory:
Where'er we boost, they fail.
If we say "rain," there's sunshine,
If we say "sunshine," hail.

For when we seek to falsify,
And lie bekownst to men,
We can't expect to be believed
When'er we lie again.

And that is why the fair was fine—
Because we knocked it so.
For everybody knew we lied—
They couldn't help but know.
—PA AND JIM.

- The Leader-Press, we charge, charges different rates to different advertisers; it writes the advertisements for certain stores that are in competition with other stores that pay big money to their own experts to have their ads written; it plays one customer against another, and takes one man's money to build his competitor up. Is that fair journalism? Is it honorable business conduct. You, who write your own ads and pay the maximum rate, are paying the fiddler, but you don't dance.

—FANNY FAN.

ADVERTISING PAYS SAYS PREACHER

ANDERSON, Ind., Oct. 3.—Advertising for churches, as well as for commercial lines, when conducted properly is a paying investment in the conclusion of members of the Ministerial association of this city.

The Rev. W. R. Parr, of the Hope Congregational Society, led in the discussion and said he was a firm believer in the value of advertising. He said he did not mean to employ extraordinary methods of attracting attention to his church, or for any other church, but he thought a church should make itself known in any community for the benefit of new arrivals or visitors.

JUST LIFE

AN AFFAIR OF HONOR.

Yesterday afternoon, a couple of hours before The Tribune went to press, a member of the law firm representing Mrs. Fred Kroner in her suit for divorce, called at the Tribune editorial office and made the request that the story concerning the suit be suppressed.

"It will make things unpleasant for all parties concerned, to publish it now," he said, "and later, when it comes to a head you can publish the complete story."

"It furnishes a very good story, and it would be a concession for us to leave it out," her lawyer was told. "I appreciate that, but we would consider it a big favor if you will agree to suppress it, for a while at least."

"Well, if you can secure the assurance of the other papers that they will agree to suppress it also, we will agree."

"Thanks. I'll see them. If they do not agree to keep it out I'll telephone you," declared the man asking the favor.

"Please be sure to do so. We want to treat you fair, but must be protected ourselves."

The Tribune was left to assume that the other papers had agreed.

It had promised, so it withheld the story.

The Tribune respected its promise with honor.

This morning The Chronicle published the story.

The Chronicle got a "scoop."

Knocking legitimate and honest home institutions should justly be re-sented.

One thing which made the Childers case extremely popular with newspaper correspondents was the welcome and oft repeated "Please rush 1000 words" from the metropolitan dailies.

"SERGEANT BRUE" THURSDAY NIGHT

Frank Daniels will appear in a new part at the La Crosse theatre Thursday, Oct. 5th. It is that of a working member of the London police force, unexpectedly turned millionaire. The piece is entitled "Sergeant Brue," and from all accounts, it was one of the most brilliant hits of the last two London seasons. Mr. Daniels' manager, Charles Dillingham, secured the American rights to the comedy and produced it in New York last Easter Day. It ran there until September and has since played a long engagement in Chicago. The piece was written by Owen Hall, who made a fortune through his authorship of "Florodora." The music is by Liza Lehman, a talented European composer. Many new songs, amusing as well as sentimental, a well defined plot, with sequence of interest and actual climaxes for each act, are some of the

A Truth Spoken Many Times:

"An advertising Contract with The Tribune is a good investment."

Make a Good Investment Now

STICKNEY SAYS COMMERCE COMMISSION IS PLAYING FAVORITE

St. Paul, Oct. 3.—In reference to comments made by members of the interstate commerce commission upon his recent statements President A. B. Stickney, of the Chicago Great Western road, said: "There are six roads engaged in the competitive business between Minneapolis, St. Paul and Chicago. Prior to March, 1902, all of these lines were making special arrangements in the nature of rebates with a great many large shippers. I will use Minneapolis flour, which is the largest commodity shipped, as an illustration.

Two of the Lives Not Enjoyed.

"In March, 1902, the interstate commission procured an injunction against four of these lines, forbidding these practices, but two of the competitive lines were not named as defendants in the suit and no injunction was issued against them. Believing that it was an oversight on the part of the commission—and as these two non-enjoined roads were rapidly increasing their tonnage of flour, while the tonnage hauled by the enjoined roads was decreasing to the same extent—it is true, as Mr. Knapp says, that I called his attention to the fact that these two roads had been omitted from the injunction.

Commission Charged with "Bluff."

"Much to my surprise he used the same bluff which he now uses—that if I would make a complaint against the roads and furnish evidence of their cutting the rate the commission would commence proceedings at once for an injunction against the two non-enjoined roads. This is the same bluff that policemen and police magistrates gave the individual citizen who complains that an illegal house or a gambling place has been established in the house adjoining his home. They always say 'If you will make a complaint before the court and furnish evidence of the fact we will break up the nuisance.'

Says It Had the Evidence.

"It was a particularly unfortunate bluff on the part of the interstate commerce commission, for at the time they procured the injunction against the four companies they evidently had evidence that at least one of the non-enjoined companies was engaged in the same practices, because they went before the grand jury and had a high official of that company indicted for paying rebates."

SPENCER REPLIES TO CHANDLER

Says the Letters Insinuates and Not Justified by the Acts.

New York, Oct. 3.—Samuel Spencer, president of the Southern Railway company, has replied to the statements made by ex-Senator Chandler, of New Hampshire, in letters which Chandler sent to the interstate commerce commission. President Spencer said when extracts from ex-Senator Chandler's letters were called to his attention:

"The railways have not resorted to tricks, as indicated by Mr. Chandler, in opposition to such legislation. All that the responsible railway managers of the country have done since the discussion of this all important question was precipitated by the president's message of December last has been to insist upon the thorough presentation to congress and to the public of all of the material facts and conditions involved in the problem.

"In all the discussion—before congressional committees, in the press and elsewhere—no substantial reasons have been advanced in support of the claim that the rate-making power should be granted to the interstate commerce commission, or to any governmental tribunal. On the other hand most sober-minded business men and students of transportation have pointed out the grave dangers to the industrial interests of the country which would arise from the revolutionary proposal to fix the income of the railways through such legislation as is proposed.

"I am sure that neither the railway managers nor the members of congress nor the public will be diverted from the merits of the question by baseless statements or insinuations as to the motives or methods of those who have frankly put forward what they believe to be valid reasons against such enactment."

HILL SAYS JUDGE WAS INFLUENCED BY SON IN THE CASE.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 3.—The case of Albert T. Patrick, who since March 26, 1902, has been under conviction of the murder of the aged millionaire William Marsh Rice, in New York city in 1900, came again before the court of appeals in an aspect as remarkable as any of the previous phases of this case, which throughout has been one of the most extraordinary in the criminal history of this state. Patrick's counsel, ex-United States Senator Hill, presented a brief in support of his motion for a re-argument of the case, which was decided against Patrick by the court last June by a vote of 4 to 3.

Has Objections to Judge Gray.

In asking the court of appeals to grant a reargument in the case ex-Senator Hill lays emphasis upon the fact that Judge Gray, who wrote the opinion against Patrick, has a son, Henry G. Gray, who is an assistant district attorney in New York and that this son participated in the prosecution of his client. Because of his relationship Hill argued that Judge Gray should not have sat in the case, and called attention to the fact that without his vote the court would have stood evenly divided.

Had Mentioned the Fact Before.

Hill said that at the time of the former argument he stated the fact of young Gray's appearance in the case, believing it sufficient to bring the matter to the attention of Judge Gray and the court. He expressed a belief that the matter was overlooked by the court in its decision. The statute provides that no judge shall sit in a case in which he is "interested." Hill argued that the circumstances came at least within the spirit of the law and that in a matter of life and death the point was an important one.

HILL CHARGES UNFAIRNESS

State Gives the Ex-Senator What Might Be Called a "Roast."

"The opinion of Judge Gray," says Hill, "shows that he misunderstood, ignored or declined to consider numerous important rulings injuriously affecting the substantial rights of the defendant, which the interests of justice and common fairness require should now be considered by this court on a reargument. Judge Gray's opinion contains material mistakes as to the evidence disclosing a misapprehension and overlooking of material points of fact by the majority of the court."

Hill asked for a reargument upon the further grounds that the court of appeals overlooked the point that the trial court refused to receive evidence that Dr. Donlin, the coroner's physician, stated immediately after the autopsy that Rice died a natural death, and also evidence bearing upon the cremation of Rice. He held that the court did not give due weight to the newly-discovered evidence of the financial interest which Drs. Donlin and Williams had in sustaining their theory that Rice must have died from chloroform, nor to the promise of immunity to Jones, Rice's valet, in consideration of his testimony against Patrick. Hill particularly attacked the testimony of Jones and the action of the court in accepting it.

The opposing brief of District Attorney Jerome, drawn, it is said, by the late ex-Justice Judson S. Landon a short time before his recent death, and filed by Assistant District Attorney Howard Gans, characterizes Hill's comment upon Judge Gray's participation in the judgment of the court as being such as "no degree of eminence in counsel could render respectable. The suggestion that Judge Gray violated the proprieties in taking part in this case is as contemptible as it is impudent," the district attorney's brief says.

BOOKS NOW UNDER FIRE

New York, Oct. 3.—Accountants have begun an investigation of the books of the New York Life Insurance company in behalf of Insurance Commissioners R. E. Folk, of Tennessee; Zeno M. Host, of Wisconsin; Thomas V. O'Brien, of Minnesota; H. J. Prewitt, of Kentucky, and C. C. Pierce, of Nebraska. The work of the accountants was directed by two actuaries—W. J. Graham, representing Tennessee, and F. S. Wolff, representing Wisconsin, Minnesota and Nebraska.

C. P. Wofford, of Tennessee, and Examiner Kearn, of Kentucky, were in town to help the actuaries. It was stated that the examination would occupy two months and that none of its disclosures would be made public before it was ended.

Argument Started in Paper Case.

St. Paul, Oct. 3.—After several postponements the case of the United States against the General Paper company and twenty-three other respondents so far as it related to the refusal of three witnesses to answer certain questions propounded to them at the hearing before United States Examiner Taylor at Milwaukee has been taken up by Judge Vandeventer in the United States circuit court.

Attorney J. P. Flanders, of Milwaukee, appeared for the defendants and argued for delay, saying that the questions involved had been certified to the United States supreme court and would be decided during the next term. He also offered other reasons, but Judge Vandeventer overruled them and directed the attorneys to proceed. Attorney F. B. Kellogg for the government then began his argument.

Big Strike at Berlin

Berlin, Oct. 3.—Negotiations between employes for higher wages have been broken off and a general strike in the works manufacturing electrical apparatus and supplies has been ordered. Some of the employes of the power and lighting works went out on a sympathetic strike without awaiting the result of the conference of the labor leaders with their employers.

Two guard regiments maneuvering in the country have been ordered to return to Berlin immediately as a precautionary measure. Half the street car service is stopped. Electric lighting may be partly suspended. The municipal government, realizing that dark streets are a danger to the public, has ordered fifty engineers from the fire companies to the power house.

Was No Insult To the King

Stockholm, Oct. 3.—The special session of the riksdag to deal with the treaty at Karlstad assembled in the throne room and listened to the king's speech, which, in the absence of King Oscar, was read by Christian Lundeberg, the minister of state. The members then went to their own chambers, where the treaty was submitted to them in the form of a royal proposal, attached to which were the cabinet's recommendations for its ratification.

These recommendations pointed out that the riksdag's conditions were all fulfilled, as the modifications reached in the course of the Karlstad conference were all within the scope of the riksdag's terms for giving its assent to the dissolution of the union of Sweden and Norway. The distance of the fortress for Kongsvinger from the frontier, it was asserted, is so great that it does not menace Sweden, so it will be allowed to remain.

STATE CONVENTION OF WHITE RIBBONISTS OPENS

Wearers of the white ribbon from all over the state convened in annual convention in the Congregational church at 2 o'clock this afternoon. State President Mary C. Upham of Marshfield, wife of Wisconsin's former governor, called the convention to order.

Religious services appropriate to the occasion were then held. This consisted of reading the crusade psalm responsively, a consecration prayer by Miss Cassie Smith of New Jersey, and singing the crusade hymn "Give to the Winds Thy Fears."

The convention then organized, searceant-at-arms being chosen and committees appointed by the president. The principal addresses on the program this afternoon were the president's annual address, Mrs. Mary C. Upham of Marshfield, and reports of officers.

Tonight's program is of a musical nature. Tomorrow's program for the W. C. T. U. convention is as follows:

MOSQUITOES MAKE LOVE A CONTAGION

Such is the Story of the Famous Le Sueur Lyre.

LE SUEUR, Minn., Oct. 3.—Dr. B. B. Norland, of Wheatley, this county, has no patience with sceptical persons who do not believe that yellow fever is disseminated by mosquitoes.

He asserts that not only is the proposition that the disease is thus spread substantiated, but that there are other ways in which these troublesome insects carry contagion.

He maintains that the rapidity with which marriage engagements are formed in the summer, as compared with cold weather statistics, is attributable to the influence of the mosquito, which bites young couples alternately and thus inoculates the shy maiden and the aspiring swain.

He studied this subject many years and discovered that in direct proportion as the houses where marriageable young women live have the porches screened with mosquito wire in the summer do the engagements of these young women thus protected fall off.

He is earnest in his advice to young men desiring to marry to keep away from mosquito netting and seek to spread the courtship microbe in the open.

Boy Bitten by a "Mad-Dog"

Oscar Stintzi, son of Geo. A. Stintzi, was bitten by Asa Darling's dog, says the Bangor Independent. Unusual interest attaches to the bite owing to the recent "mad-dog" excitement and the commonly accepted belief that Mr. Darling's dog was one of those which had been bitten by Hub Richardson's dog, the canine that caused all the trouble.

We are informed that the Stintzi boy and Asa's boy were at a Dring's where the dog was tied up. The boys were looking at an owl near the dog and the dog came up behind the Stintzi boy and bit him in the side. This occurred at noon and the boy did not say anything about it to his father until after school. His father determined to take no chances and had the wound cauterized by a physician. The Darling dog has not shown any sign of having gone wrong thus far, and it is hoped no evil results will follow the bite.

It is understood there will be no contest.

FORGERY DONE FOR EXPERIMENT

New York, Oct. 3.—By the confession of Henry A. Leonard, a young clerk in the employ of Halle & Stieglitz, brokers at 30 Broad street, the mystery of the robbery on Wednesday last of $350,000 worth of securities from the National City bank has been cleared up. Leonard, who lives with his parents at 586 East One Hundred and Thirty-Sixth street, was arrested Sunday and kept in close confinement, while the detectives continued their search for the missing securities, every dollar of which has been recovered.

Had No Criminal Motive.

The prisoner, who is only 24 years old, and who has previously borne the reputation of an industrious and thoroughly reliable clerk, made the astounding statement in his confession that he had planned and carried out his scheme of forgery and robbery not from any criminal motive, but solely to show by what a simple device the elaborate safeguards of New York banks could be set at naught. That this statement is true is in a measure corroborated by the facts in the case, and is the belief of the young man's employers, by whom he was highly esteemed.

Sends $300,000 Back by Mail.

Soon after the theft Leonard mailed a package containing $300,000 in securities to the residence of Dyer Pearl, senior member of the firm of Pearl & Co., by whom they were owned. The package was received by Pearl Sunday. Yesterday Leonard's father turned over to the police the remaining $50,000 in stocks and bonds, which he said had been found in a wardrobe in his house, where his son had said after his arrest he had secreted them.

First Clue to the Forger.

The first clue that led to Leonard's arrest was obtained when the detectives traced the rubber stamp maker whom Leonard had employed to make the imitation certification stamp used in the check he presented at the National City bank. As a model for the stamp he gave the maker an old certified check bearing a fragment of the signature of Halle & Stieglitz, and also a memorandum in his own hand, which was identified by fellow clerks. Leonard was held in the Tombs police court in $50,000 bail for further examination. On leaving the court room on his way to prison he said, in response to a question: "I did it on a bet."
